

NORTHWEST PAPER CO. TO MAKE PAPER EARLY IN SPRING

First Convertible Print to Book Paper Mill in the United States New Industry Here

Mills Will Give Steady Employment to 200 Men and Will Add 1,000 to the Population of Brainerd

The Northwest Paper Company will be making paper in Brainerd early next spring.

The company also operates big mills at Cloquet and so is a pioneer in this field of manufacturing. A picture of the mills as they looked while construction work was in progress, is shown. The photograph was taken by Louis P. Gallagher, of the Duluth Herald, and embellished a fine story on Brainerd written by George Reid, prominent special writer of the Duluth Herald.

Since the taking of the picture, the paper mill brick building on top of the bank has been completed. Construction work centers today on the installation of the water wheels and generators. The cement foundations are in for the grinder room and the electric power house, situated at the base of the bank.

Employment for months has been given 250 men, crews working day and night. Paydays are semi-monthly and their effect is felt in the commercial life of Brainerd.

Construction has started on a water tank of large capacity. The Chicago Bridge & Iron Works has that contract.

The Brainerd mill is the first of its kind in the United States, being a convertible mill, in shape to be changed at short notice from the making of print paper to that of book paper.

The Brainerd mills will give steady employment to 200 men and will add 1,000 to the population of Brainerd.

POPE PRAISES AMERICANS

Bestows Honors on Members of Relief Commission.

Rome, Nov. 1.—Pope Benedict received in private audience George Barr Baker of New York, a member of the American commission for relief in Belgium.

Wishing, he said, further to demonstrate his appreciation of the work of the American relief commission, the pontiff presented to Mr. Baker two autographed photographs, one for himself and one for Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the commission.

The pope expressed the hope that the plan of the commission to provide a supplementary meal for the Belgian children to save them from starvation and disease would be a success, and added that it would give a new proof of American generosity.

Japanese Festivals.

The Japanese festivals are easily remembered: First of first month, the new year; third of third month, feast
of dolls; for girls; fifth of fifth month, feast of flags; for boys; seventh of seventh month, the day for the god and goddess of love, Tonabata; ninth of ninth month, the "escape of the moun-

The latter is not now generally observed.

chairman of the commission.

The pope expressed the hope that
the plan of the commission to provide

added that it would give a new proof

Japanese Festivals.

The Japanese festivals are easily remembered: First of first month, the new year; third of third month, feast
of dolls; for girls; fifth of fifth month, feast of flags; for boys; seventh of seventh month, the day for the god and goddess of love, Tanabata; ninth of ninth month, the "escape of the mountains," the feast of chrysanthemums.
The latter is not now generally observed.

Hope Women Will

Adopt This Habit

As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-checked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

THE DEAR RELIEF CORPS GIRLS

Time works many wondrous changes. As we gather here today With "Old Glory" all about us, Back our thoughts go, far away— Not just to the dear old soldiers; But where'er that flag unfurls, We glimpse visions, in its beauty, Of the dear Relief Corps Girls.

When War's awful carnage ended, When its heroes sought their homes Grateful hearts gave them the welcome

That to every conqueror comes, But not only to the victors Who survived War's cyclone whirls— There was also praise and glory For the Dear Relief Corps Girls.

Theirs it was to help the needy Theirs to hush the orphan's cry, Theirs to heal the broken hearted Theirs the widow's tears to dry, Theirs to prove that woman's pity Means far more than gold or pearls, Here today we bring this tribute, To the Dear Relief Corps Girls.

Years go circling down the ages, But in all life's story grand Loyal woman stands before us With the world at her command, She it is who lifts the fallen, At all foes defiance huris, And first and foremost in all service Are the Dear Relief Corps Girls.

Can we bring one flower too many To the old Grand Army boys? No; the heart of a great nation Longs to give them added joys, Can we place a wreath too fragrant On the thin and whitening curls Of these true and loyal women, Dearly loved Relief Corps Girls?

No, again, For who can measure All Love's sacrifice and pain? Who can count their deeds of kindness Reckon loss for others' gain? God be gracious to his hand-maid While Life's flag for them unfurls And in heaven, give crowns of glory To the Dear Relief Corps Girls.

QUIDA NOVEL FILMED

Has Long Record in Stage and Story —Featuring Miss Theda Bara

"Under Two Flags," the novel by Quida which the genius of William Fox has turned into a film masterpiece, featuring Theda Bara, has had a long history in its printed form, and as a piece for the stage. Many dramatic versions of the novel have been acted, the most important being by Paul M. Potter, who also dramatized du Maurier's "Trilby". Another version was made by Margaret Mayo, author of "Twin Beds," and "Baby Mine," famous New York farces.

A strange thing about the play is that it was given at the Academy of Music, in 1901, with Blanche Bates in the role of Cigarette. The same theatre is now owned by William Fox and his pictures are shown there regularly. "Under Two Flags" will return to this playhouse after an absence of fifteen years and will be shown at the Best theatre next Monday.

A REPUBLICAN CONGRESS

In Harold Knutson the Republican party has a candidate for Congress who is worthy of the support of every voter in the Sixth district. He has been a resident of the District for many years and has always worked for the welfare and advancement of this section of the state and northern Minnesota generally. He is thoroughly familiar with every part of the district and knows its needs and requirements. He has made a study of the drainage question which is a subject of vital importance in the development of northern Minnesota and favors Federal aid in preventing the overflow of agricultural lands. He is a booster all the time for northern Minnesota and is awake to every opportunity to promote its development.

Having been raised on a farm he naturally knows the needs of the farmers and is in sympathy with all measures which will advance the dairying and agricultural interests of the district. He favors the protection of the American farmer, laborer and business man by the enactment of a tariff law that will insure their prosperity. Under the present democratic tariff law practically every product of the northern farmer is on the free list, and, but for the European war which has caused a demand for all farm produce, the result, judging from past experiences, would have been disastrous to those engaged in dairying and agriculture. Mr. Knutson believes in a tariff on farm products that will give to the farmer reasonable protection, thereby assuring permanent prosperity to our agricultural communities. He understands the needs of labor and will actively support and work for legislation which will improve the conditions of labor and promote the interests and welfare of the laboring man. When the war is over keener competition in all lines of business is sure to come. The millions of men now engaged on the battle fields of Europe will return to peaceful competition of production and commerce with greatly increased power to compete with us, caused by the training and hardship they are now going through. While, on the other hand, a host of American workmen now profitably engaged in the manufacture of munitions of war must seek other lines of employment. We are on the eve of the greatest trade war in the history of the world, and if we are to avoid another period of depression and suffering such as we experienced during 1913 and 1914, which has been but temporarily relieved by the enormous demands of the warring countries of Europe for the products of our farms and factories, it will be necessary to replace the present democratic tariff law, which is practically a free trade law, with a tariff measure that will afford reasonable protection to American industries and American workmen, and it is important that the Sixth District send to Congress as its representative a man who believes in the principal of protection.

Harold Knutson is honest, efficient, progressive and believes in economy in conducting the affairs of government. He is abreast with the times on all public questions, and as a member of Congress from the Sixth District can render valuable service to the people.

Send Harold Knutson to Congress.

Which is the Real Friend of Labor

HUGHES

or

Here is Hughes' Record from The "Legislative Labor News" of New York, October 10, 1910:

"Now that Governor Hughes has retired from politics and ascended to a place on the highest judicial tribunal in the world, the fact can be acknowledged, without hurting anybody's political corns, that he was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the governor's chair at Albany. During his two terms he has signed 56 labor laws, including among them the best labor laws ever enacted in this or any other state. He also urged the enactment of labor laws in his messages to the legislature, even going so far as to place the demand for a labor law in one of his messages to an extra session of the legislature.

"Only 162 labor laws have been enacted in this state since its election in 1777—in 133 years. One-third of these, exceeding in quality all of the others, have been enacted and signed during Governor Hughes' term of three years and nine months."

This is the testimony of one of the greatest labor papers in America.

"In much of this legislation," says President Schurman of Cornell University, "Governor Hughes was blazing a new path. Notably was he a pioneer in constructive legislation for the establishment of a fair and adequate system of compensation for workmen's injuries. As far back as 1909, two years before the enactment of the Wisconsin Workmen's compensation law, Governor Hughes recommended to the legislature of New York the making of provision for special and expert inquiry into the question relating to employers' liability and compensation for workmen's injuries." He declared that existing conditions were "so unjust that there should be remedial action." And he had the satisfaction of approving as governor a promising workmen's compensation bill.

BUT THE IMPORTANT THING TO KEEP IN MIND IS:

That American wages will be SLAUGHTERED after the European war, by Oriental and European competition, if Woodrow Wilson, free trader, is elected.

Have you forgotten the period of unemployment and business paralysis prior to the European war and directly traceable to the Democratic Tariff Law?

Judging from the list of contributions and contributors published in the Duluth News-Tribune very few democratic postmasters and office holders were immune to the call for financial aid for the democratic campaign fund. The assessment of these people for 10 percent of their salary, or any per cent for that matter, violates the civil service law, but this seems to have been entirely overlooked, and democratic bosses were cautioned to assess postmasters outside their offices and informed in strictest confidence that those office holders who did not contribute will be marked for removal in case President Wilson is re-elected. The "shake-down" letter read so much like a hold-up plan that some of the faithful rebelled and one California postmaster resigned and turned the light on the transaction giving publicity to the letter.

Congressman C. B. Miller of Duluth will speak at Gardner auditorium tomorrow evening, coming to this city under the auspices of the republican county organization. Mr. Miller is noted as an orator and his political information places him in a position that will make his address an interesting one, and at this time just before election there are many who are in doubt as to the real issues. The people of Brainerd and vicinity, regardless of politics, should turn out Thursday evening and listen to the address of Congressman Miller.

Voters should remember that in the election of a United States senator the greater his majority at the polls the more prestige he will have in the national legislature of the country. There is no question as to the election of Frank B. Kellogg to this position from Minnesota and the effort is now being made to increase his vote to such size that the North Star state will be recognized as having two of the most influential men in the United States senate of any state in the union. Give Frank B. Kellogg your vote.

Harold Knutson, the republican candidate for congress, should receive the loyal support of the people of this city and county. His record is a clean one, he is right on the propositions of the country that confront the people today, and he will help uphold the hands of a republic.

Send Harold Knutson to Congress.

Here is Wilson's Arraignment of American Labor Union as a National Menace, uttered in his Baccalaureate Address at Princeton University, in June, 1909:

"You know what the usual standard of the employee is in our day. It is to give as little as he may for his wages. Labor is standardized by the trade unions, and this is the standard to which it is made to conform. No one is suffered to do more than the average workman can do; in some trades and handicrafts no one is suffered to do more than the least skillful of his fellows can do within the hours allotted to a day's labor, and no one may work out of hours at all or volunteer anything beyond the minimum."

"I need not point out how economically disastrous such a regulation of labor is. It is so unprofitable to the employer that in some trades it will presently not be worth his while to attempt anything at all. He had better stop altogether, than operate at an inevitable and invariable loss."

"The labor of America is rapidly becoming unprofitable under its present regulation by those who have determined to reduce it to a minimum. Our economic supremacy may be lost because the country grows more and more full of unprofitable servants."

And again on January 12, 1909, in replying to an invitation to speak at a dinner of Anti-Strike and Anti-Boycott Advocates, he said:

"I am a fierce partisan of the open shop and of everything that makes for individual liberty, and I should like to contribute to anything that might be possible for me to contribute to the clarification of thinking and the formation of right purposes in matters of this kind."

"We speak too exclusively of the capitalistic class. There is another, as formidable an enemy to equality and betterment of opportunity as it is, and that is the class formed by the labor organizations and leaders of the country."

Praise to the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission for its long-fought and carefully planned campaign for reduced transportation rates and for Justice Charles E. Hughes, for his historic decision sustaining the same is well enough, as far as it goes, but what interests the hard-headed citizen more is a showing of the practical benefits obtained. Whether from Missouri or somewhere else, Americans are much alike in that they want some visible proof to substantiate nice-sounding phrases. In other words, they want to be shown. Facts and figures tell fully as eloquent a story as words, and a much more convincing one. The saving by the Minnesota rate case to the people who pay the freight, that is, the shippers and receivers, amounts to more than $1,500,000.00. During the two years that intervened between the decision of Judge Sanborn restoring the old rates and the Hughes' decision, claims for excess charges on freight and passenger rates accrued to the amount of approximately $3,000,000.00. This has been restored to the people of the state through refunds collected in large part through the agency of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission. The reductions affected were approximately as follows:

On general merchandise, from 20 to 25% on grain, lumber, livestock and coal, an average of 10% on passenger fares, 33%.

Following is a comparative table of a few specimen rates showing in one column the charges for transporting freight at certain Minnesota points previous to the adoption of the Minnesota rate and in the corresponding column the new rates promulgated by the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission and sustained by the United States Supreme Court in Justice Hughes' opinion:

ELECT REPUBLICAN CONGRESS

Editors Dispatch: Allow me as an old veteran of the civil war to say that I am strongly opposed to war and to militarism in all its aspects, and I would not have my country keep a big army, nor raise a big army for any other purpose than for defense. The attempt to use our army on foreign soil for any other purpose than as a fractional part of an international police force to maintain international peace and prevent any nation from engaging in war, I would consider a crime. But that is not the issue in this campaign. And I am sorry to see the two parties giving so much time to it. Any man elected president who would attempt to plunge this country into war or permit any designing man to drift into war, would encounter such a storm of public indignation that congress would stay his hand. We need not now concern ourselves about keeping out of war any more than we need concern ourselves about a nation wide famine. All such contingencies are too remote to take our attention from the immediate and very live question shall we prepare against the practical certainty of a near by revival of soup houses and empty dinner pails for men in enforced idleness through lack of protective tariff to maintain decent wages for our workmen. Shall we under the delusive promise of higher wages and short hours actually close our factories and throw our men out of employment entirely, because our shops cannot compete with cheap labor abroad. What avails it for a man and his family to be promised higher wages and cheaper living, when he sees no reduction probable or actual in the cost of living and knows that under a tariff that is less than the difference in wages there is just ahead of him when peace comes the greatest stagnation in business this country has yet known, even our home market is open practically free for foreign competition. I see no way to prevent this except with a republican congress, and even that will not avail with a democratic president to veto a protective tariff. I see my duty plain as an American to

State Dairy School
Will Open Nov. 20

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 1.—The Dairy school of the department of agriculture of the University of Minnesota, one of the agencies that has helped greatly to promote the dairy industry of Minnesota, will open its annual five weeks session at the University farm, St. Paul, November 20, it was announced today.

This school was designed to meet the demand for men well trained in creamery operation. For a butter-maker, a year's experience in a creamery is required for admission. This should have been preceded by at least a grammar school education. For a cheese-maker the requirements are six months' experience in a cheese factory with the same preliminary work in public schools.

The regents of the university grant dairy school certificates to students who have taken the regular course and passed satisfactory examinations and this shows that they have acquired skill in butter or cheese-making.

The advanced creamery course is offered for butter-makers who have obtained the regents' certificates of the regular dairy school, or who have been awarded diplomas by the State Dairy and Food department for successful participation in one of the six months' scoring contests.

After the work in butter-making is completed on Dec. 16, a weeks course in ice cream-making is offered. There are no special requirements for admission to this course excepting a little experience in handling milk and making butter. All of the equipment of the College of Agriculture needed for courses of this kind is made available for the students.

His bond was fixed at $3,000 and he was committed to jail.

"The foregoing comparative table of specimen freight rates tells its own story," said Judge Ira B. Mills, Chairman of the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission. "The figures may be verified by reference to the local station agents of the railroad named and from whom also further details relating to rates for second, third and fourth class merchandise, wheat, cattle and sheep and other commodities, may be obtained. The direct results to the people of Minnesota from the victory in the great rate case are hard to calculate, but the financial saving now amounting to $1,500,000.00 a year, naturally will increase with the growth of the state and the increase in traffic."

MILLER SPEAKS HERE TOMORROW

Eighth District Congressman to Speak at the Republican Meeting in Brainerd Thursday

AT THE GARDNER AUDITORIUM

Meeting Will Probably be the Last and Will be an Interesting Discussion of Present Issues

.....
Congressman Miller will arrive in Brainerd tonight and Thursday morning will be taken to Deerwood and Crosby where noon meetings will be held. The party will leave Brainerd going by automobile and an endeavor will be made to make the circuit of the range towns, returning to Brainerd in time for dinner at 6 o'clock.

Congressman Clarence B. Miller of Duluth, will speak at Gardner auditorium on Thursday evening, Nov. 2, under the auspices of the county organization. The meeting will be an interesting one and will be chiefly a discussion of national affairs and issues. Congressman Miller's long association with national affairs and his thorough knowledge of the ins and outs, gained only by personal experience, together with the fact that he is an eloquent orator should be among the arguments for a packed house on the occasion of his visit here. This will probably be the last political speaker for the organization during the campaign. The band will be in attendance and will enliven the occasion before the meetings open.

Mr. Miller represents the Eighth district in congress and is a candidate for reelection at the present time.

Postmaster Dunn and all Carriers Celebrate at His Home 15th Year in the Service

Albert R. Cass is the only letter carrier to wear a red star in Uncle Sam's service in Brainerd, having finished his 15th year as letter carrier on Oct. 31st, 1916.

In that time he has handled over 3,642,000 pieces of mail, a total of 181 tons. He has walked around the earth three times to deliver it or 74,800 miles. This is just in-coming mail not counting the mail that is collected from street letter boxes and delivered to main office to be dispatched.

The question, "Have you any mail for us today?" has been answered by him 43,675 times.

He has been bitten by dogs seven different times. He is still able to do a day's work regardless of the weather, rain, snow or sunshine.

He is the only letter carrier of the original three in the service who started to work on Nov. 1st, 1901 to answer the call of old Bundy at 7:30 A. M. The other two men, John Thompson, is at present custom inspector at International Falls, and James J. Nolan of Brainerd, who has been transferred to the position of clerk at the post office.

Uncle Sam's business has increased during these years to such an extent that the carrier force has been doubled and is in need of more help at the present time.

Hon. H. P. Dunn, postmaster, all the letter carriers, met at the home of Mr. Cass last evening and enjoyed telling of the things that have happened during these 15 years. Refreshments were served, congratulations were extended and all wished him health to enjoy 15 years more of service.

Dr. Thabes is of the opinion that ample funds have been collected by this time.

The search by "Fisherman John," of Stillwater, was instituted Monday morning. O. E. Jones took him out to Lake George in his car. Mr. Jones and Dean White are still at the scene of the disaster.

SINGER IN CUSTODY

Lauri Maki's Vocal Demonstration Resented by the Finnish Boarding House in S. E. Brainerd

Lauri Maki returned to his boarding house in Southeast Brainerd last night with a proverbial "bun" on of large dimensions. He had gained the idea that he was a singer of merit. As long as he thought about it, his boarding house friends didn't worry.

But when Maki opened up like a bull dog baying at the moon, there was a demonstration. Every minute he violated one of the rules of the boarding house, which was that quiet was to be preserved.

Maki was argued with, but his voice ceased not in his song gymnastics. At length the boarders lifted him up and set him outside.

The cold night air had no effect, for his soul still poured out whatever melody it had and the neighbors objected. Calls were sent out for the police and the fire truck.

The Dispatch reporter hopped on the fire truck and rode with the department to 12th and Oak, at which corner stood Chief Squires and the Finn, who was still singing. He was loaded in on the hose and taken to the city jail.

Fifty men and boys shoved in to see Maki assigned to cell No. 31. This morning Maki was of a contrite spirit. He drew a $10 fine or 10 days in jail. Friends are out raising the money and Maki will soon be liberated.

He came from Seattle five months ago, has been working in the shops, has a wife in Finland, is the best fellow in the world, but nobody will stand for his singing.

MINNESOTA SEED LAW

Law Requires all Seed Should be Labeled, Percent of Impurities, if Any, Must be Stated

OTHER PROVISIONS OF THE LAW

Seeds Grown in Minnesota are So Labeled, and if Corn, the County in Which it Was Raised (BY VIOLA PORTER) (High School Student)

The Minnesota State Legislature passed a seed law which went into effect July 1, 1913. The law requires that all seed should be labeled. Sale of impure seed is not stopped but the percent of impurities must be on the label. It protects the farmer who wants to buy good seed, as well as the honest seedman.

The law provides for:
1. The accurate labeling of all agricultural seeds in lots of one pound or more.

2. The free testing of seeds for any resident of the state.

3. The inspection of seeds sold in the markets of this state and the publication of the results.

4. The enforcement of the law and penalties for the violation of the same.

On the label the following points must be given in large written or printed letters in the English language:

1. The most common name for the seed.

2. The germination percentage and the date on which it was determined.

3. The percentage of certain weed seed present.

4. The percentage of purity.

5. The general locality on which the seed is grown.

6. The name and address of seedmen offering seeds for sale.

The germination test is important also the date of germination because as the seed gets older its power of germinating rapidly decreases. By this test the farmer knows how much is going to grow. For instance, if the germination test is 50%, he will want twice as much seed or with such a low test, he probably wouldn't want the seed at all.

If Canada thistle, perennial sow thistle, quack grass or dodder are present the percentage must be given although the law does not forbid the sale of seeds containing these weeds. The weeds mentioned above are the worst we have to contend with as they are such rapid spreaders and are so hard to eradicate.

The purity test must be given because if the purity test is high, the percentage of refuse will necessarily be small. Farmers do not want to pay for weeds and chaff.

Seeds grown in this state must be labeled "grown in Minnesota," and if the seed is corn, the county in which it is grown must be given. This protects the buyer from getting southern seed which will not mature here. Seeds shipped from a distance are also apt to introduce new weed seeds. The name and address of the seedman must also appear on the label. The label may be pasted on or tied on in the form of a tag.

There are a few exceptions to these rules, for instance a farmer can sell seed without the regular label providing he marks it "not cleaned seed." The farmer can easily obtain the required information however, by sending a small sample of seed to the Seed Testing Laboratory, University Farm, St. Paul.

Because of the many mixed varieties, lawn grass is difficult to test and is usually labeled "Good," "Fair" or "Poor" with the percentage of quack grass, perennial sow thistle, Canada thistle and dodder.

The Seed Laboratory will not make more than 50 purity tests for any one person or firm in one month. Samples should be sent by mail and numbered if more than one sample is sent.

Farmers are urged to send their

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT MADE TO SMOKERS

High Quality of San Felice Cigars Maintained. Now Sell at 5c Straight

Owing to the greatly increased cost of quality tobacco, in fact everything pertaining to high grade cigars, the makers of the San Felice cigar, The Delsel-Wemmer Company, have advanced the selling price to the Jobbers and Dealers, and henceforth this cigar will positively be sold to the consumer at 5 cents straight instead of six for a quarter as previously.

The San Felice is national in its scope and character, having justly attained this eminence through its unexcelled excellence. To maintain this unequalled standard of quality, the advance in question is absolutely unavoidable. The generous support of all men using quality cigars is earnestly desired.

About Future Linen Prices

If women fully realized what the prices of linens must be for the next several years they would do their utmost to fully supply their wants now.

When our present supply is exhausted and we must purchase upon the market, prices must increase from 50 per cent to 100 per cent. With all the increases in prices none will show greater increase than linens. Our prices will not increase so long as our stock lasts.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled. This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

UNCLE JOE FLATTERS LADIES

Tells Women on Hughes Society Special They're All Right.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 1.—Uncle Joe Cannon gave the Hughes society special a great welcome. He said:
"You women talk so quietly. You don't swear and you don't shake your fists. You don't orate, but you make the points you are after. You don't campaign like men, that's sure, but you campaign just as effectively."

without trace of Lauralida Ryan, fourteen years old, who has been missing since Sunday afternoon. Her foster parents believe her to have been kidnapped, but the police think she ran away. They say Lauralida disappeared before and was found at the home of a neighbor. She left Sunday afternoon after attending Sunday school.
She had told her foster parents a strange man had accosted her several times within a month, asking her to go to Milwaukee.

MIKE GIBBONS-
JACK DILLON

Clash in St. Paul Auditorium Ring on Night of November 10th

GO WILL SETTLE SUPREMACY

World Will See a Wonderful Battle
When These Two Gladiators Meet

When Mike Gibbons and Jack Dillon clash in the St. Paul Auditorium ring on the night of November 10, boxing writers from virtually every city of any importance in the country, will be at the ringside to telegraph back to their papers, the running story of the greatest ring contest staged in recent years.

The November 10 ring contest will settle a question of ring supremacy which has been a vital argument for more than three years or—since the untimely death of Stanley Ketchel, world's champion middleweight who was murdered. Ever since the murder of the title holder, the middleweight title has been battered around from pillar to post with no one recognized or accepted as sole owner.

Both Gibbons and Dillon have beaten down every other contender for the crown during the past three years, however, and now—through the untiring efforts of Harry A. Sherman, president of the Elliott and Sherman Film corporation and the Minneapolis and St. Paul boxing clubs, these two gladiators of the squared circle are preparing to clash for the sole purpose of settling that ever important question: "Who is the world's greatest middleweight?"

Mike Gibbons and Jack Dillon have challenged each other repeatedly and while many promoters have attempted to bring them together, until the November 10 clash was enriched, the efforts of the various impresarios were futile. Mike Gibbons started out in the endeavor to eliminate everyone—just three years ago. He started in by knocking out Bob McAlister and followed this up by finishing Young Ahern in four rounds. Then in turn, Jimmy Clabby, Eddie McGoorty, Jeff Smith, Walter Coffey, Mike Donovan and numerous others were met and defeated by the St. Paul marvel until today he stands high above the general run of middleweights, or, in other words, no one except Jack Dillon stands between him and the championship title.

And so it is with Jack Dillon. He has beaten every contender in turn, to say nothing of several heavy weights and he has no one but Mike Gibbons to beat in order to stand supreme in the world of middles. So, when these gladiators meet at St.
Paul on November 10, the world is going to see a wonderful battle in which the results means a great deal.

said to be a naturalized American citizen, was executed at Parral Oct. 3,

Mrs. Diaz said she accompanied her arrested the afternoon of his arrival and put to death that night on the charge of being a legalista.

TWO GREAT QUALITIES.

There are two qualities in human nature that need to be cultivated by every one. These qualities are unselfishness and self control. Unselfishness would end all monopoly. Self control would enable every individual to direct his mental and physical energies toward the best uses of life for himself and humanity.

LANSING CABLES
BERLIN FOR DATA

Seeks Germany's Version of Marina Sinking.

SIX YANKEES LOST ON SHIP

Informal Request for Information Is Forwarded Through American Embassy at German Capital—Survivors Say No Warning Was Given.

DEVELOPMENTS IN NEW U-BOAT AFFAIR.

Six Americans killed in sinking by U-boat of British steamship Marina.

Secretary Lansing informally asks Berlin for information on sinking of Marina and Rowan-more.

American survivors say Marina was fired on without warning and submarine made no attempt to rescue lifeboats from rough sea.

Washington fears Germany violated pledge, but withholds judgment while it seeks facts.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Both President Wilson and Secretary Lansing are awaiting with the greatest concern a complete report on the destruction of the British steamship Marina and the loss of six American lives.

Germany has been asked to furnish the United States any information the imperial government may have concerning the sinking by submarine of the Marina and Rowanmore. The request was forwarded through the American embassy at Berlin.

The request is informal and is intended in no sense as an intimation that German submarines have violated international law or the pledges of the German government to the United States.

Rowanmore Case Different.

As to the Rowanmore, which admittedly sought to escape, there seemed to be but one point to clear up—whether the submarine actually fired upon boats leaving the ship, as alleged by survivors.

In the absence of President Wilson, who left Shadow Lawn to fill a speaking engagement at Buffalo, Secretary Lansing has taken full charge of the investigation. It was stated he will keep the president informed by telegraph if there are vital developments.
Both President Wilson and Secretary Lansing are suspending judgment, hoping that further inquiry may remove the grave aspects of the international situation.

The American embassy at London has been instructed to obtain affidavits from survivors and will make the most thorough investigation of the exact status of the vessel.

The latter point is of great importance, because if it is shown that the Marina was not in the admiralty service, its status was that of a peaceful merchantman, and attacking it without warning constituted a flagrant and definite violation of Germany's pledge.

MARINA UNWARNED,
SURVIVORS DECLARE

Dublin, Nov. 1.—The British steamer Marina was torpedoed without warning, according to a statement made by American survivors of the vessel who arrived here from Bear-haven.

The survivors declared that two torpedoes were fired at the Marina and that the submarine watched the boats containing the survivors for half an hour without offering assistance.

Twenty-eight American survivors of the steamer arrived at the Seamen's home here from Bearhaven.

SAYS BRITAIN TOOK
SWISS DOCUMENTS

New York, Nov. 1.—Jules Matzger, who says he is a Swiss courier, declared on his arrival here on the steamer Noordam that Swiss official documents bearing the seal of that government, which he was bringing to the Swiss legation at Washington and to the Swiss consul general in this city, were seized by the British authorities when the Noordam stopped at Falmouth.

Matzger said the packages bore the addresses to which they were destined and that he informed the English officers of his official capacity, protesting against the seizure.

About 300 species of turtle and tor-toises are known.

The pineapple and Spanish moss are botanical relatives.
